

First announcement

The 6th joint meeting of Chinese physicists worldwide (OCPA6) - International Conference on Physics Education and Frontier Physics Research

The 6th joint meeting of Chinese physicists worldwide (OCPA6)-International Conference on Physics Education and Frontier Physics Research will be organized by the Institute of Modern Physics of the Chinese Academy of Science, Lanzhou University, and the Overseas Chinese Physics Association (OCPA) on August 3-7, 2009 in Lanzhou, China.

The conference continues a series held previously in Shantou (1994), Taipei (1997), Hong Kong (2000), Shanghai (2004) and Taipei (2006).

The scientific program will feature invited talks in plenary sessions, invited and contributed talks in parallel sessions. Scientific topics will cover the latest experimental and theoretical developments in all sub-areas of physics. The educational program will cover new progress in physics education, public outreach, mentoring of undergraduate students, graduate students and postdoctoral researchers.

The conference will be held on the site of Lanzhou University, located in the heart of the city of Lanzhou in Gansu province. It is within walking distance to the famed Yellow River bank.

A website has been set up for the conference and will be updated with detailed information as it becomes available. The URL is <http://snst.lzu.edu.cn/web1/index.html>
